The assignment:

You are to create a concept map (a web) that represents each unit of study for this course except the very last unit. I have examples in class. Basically, you are summarizing for yourself what you have learned. The process of creating these concepts maps is a terrific way of studying. If you pay attention to the rubric above, you will know exactly what to do to earn a great mark! It's win-win - great mark and you are studying for the final exam. This culminating assignment is worth 10% of your final mark.

Begin with the name of the unit in the middle of a blank page. From there, branch off into the main sub-topics (usually 2-3). Your unit title page will help with these main sub-topics. After that, use your unit planner and notes for smaller subsections.

We will begin this process in class, but you will need to spend time at home. Do NOT leave to the last moment. Although this is not a hard assignment, it is time consuming. Rushing it is not in your best interest. Good luck!

Due: _____

This is a firm deadline. 'Lates' will not be accepted.
